PRICE AND VICINITY

Price hotel registers are filled to the brim with the names of transients.

A. W. McKinnon has appointed Arthur H. Hanten a deputy in the county clerk and recorder's office.

O. E. Watkins, the tailor, is now located at Moab. He has been at Richfield since leaving Price some months ago.

Miss Augusta Walsh yesterday afternoon entertained the bridge club on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Moxley.

"Chalky" Germaine is to meet young Kibbourn of Denver in a twenty-round go at Price on Labor Day. Germaine is now training at Helper.

McKenna's transfer driver broke a plate glass window at the Tavern Cafe yesterday while moving a piano. The wagon was backed into the glass front.

Charles Kelley, who practiced law at Price some two years ago, is the democratic nominee for county attorney of Grand county. He has been making his home at Westwater since leaving Price.

H. P. Myton, who is now a resident of Salt Lake county, having removed his residence from Salt Lake City, has announced himself as a candidate for county recorder on the republican ticket.

B. R. McDonald and Levi N. Harmon, representing Carbon county, and C. Stanley Price and W. F. Olson, representing the city of Price, are at Salt Lake City this week as delegates to the Transmississippi congress.

Matt Lauber gave a card party to sixteen of his young friends last Saturday evening in honor of his cousin, Cecil A. Barker of Placerville, Calif., who visited in Price on his way to attend the normal school at Kirksville, Mo.

The Denver and Rio Grande passenger department has issued a new folder in national colors, complimentary to the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic which will be held at Los Angeles, Calif., in September.

Dr. A. C. Sorenson, health officer, is making war on the weeds about the city, and asks that all citizens join him and City Marshal Bryner in the crusade. Weeds are not only unsightly, but breed typhoid and other diseases as well.

Rev. R. T. Plisk is the new Methodist minister assigned to Price, Helper and Kenilworth by the conference recently held at Salt Lake City. Rev. Plisk preached his first sermon at Price last Sunday and made a most favorable impression.

M. C. Gray of Salt Lake City has been awarded the contract for installing the electric lighting plant at Helper, while J. S. Jones, also of Zion, will look after the wiring of the town. The power plant will be on the Price river about a mile above town.

Superintendent Black of the Union Pacific coal mines was at Scofield last week. It is believed in the upper end of the county that these properties are again soon to resume. Eight men have recently been put to work by Superintendent Black in development.

Next Sunday's Herald-Republican will have an excellent article on the agricultural and horticultural resources of Price River Valley from the pen of its Price correspondent, E. M. Peyton. Some six thousand acres of new land has been brought under cultivation this present year.

John Potter has left at the office of "the great moral and religious" a curiosity in the cucumber line, grown on his place in the northeast part of the city. The specimen weighs a little over two and a quarter pounds and is "a doubleheader," as it were. When picked it was only twelve days old.

Dr. A. C. Sorenson, city health officer, is forcing a general cleanup of filthy premises about town and is being commended for his activity. In fact, he has done more in the few days since his appointment than his predecessors have done in years. Dr. Sorenson is playing no favorites as have others before him.

Willis T. Beardsley, formerly manager of the Denver and Rio Grande Hotel at Helper, is again in Utah for several months. He is now at the head of the postal savings banks in the Philippines and is regarded as one of the big financiers of the islands. His mother, Mrs. O. T. Beardsley, is residing in California.

Monday's Herald-Republican has this item of local news under a Price headline: "Wallace R. Petty of this city has invented an automobile headlight that swings with the steering wheel and follows the curve of the road, allowing the driver to see directly ahead of his car at all times. A company has been formed, consisting of W. H. Petty, president; J. C. Berglund, vice president; R. H. Thompson, secretary and treasurer, with C. C. McWhinney and John U. Bryner as additional directors."

Messrs. Jones and Lewis retire from the Price Meat and Grocery company the first of September, the business being taken over by Benton Randolph and others as heretofore announced in The Advocate. Mr. Randolph is moving from East Blawieha to Price with his family and will be manager of the concern.

Utah's many attractions will be set forth by the publicity campaign inaugurated by the Denver and Rio Grande. Col. I. A. Denton, general agent of the passenger department of that road at Salt Lake City, has received instructions from F. A. Wadleigh, general passenger agent at Denver, Colo., to give this state liberal advertising in this work.

That the bull moose party will put up a complete state ticket at the convention to be held at Ogden on September 13th is the announcement made by leaders of the party. "We will nominate a full state ticket just as we promised we would do," says Wesley K. Walton. "I might add that we will not only nominate a full state ticket at Ogden, but we expect to elect every man we nominate."

Official announcement of the appointment of A. T. Miller as chief dispatcher for the Denver and Rio Grande, with headquarters in Salt Lake City, was made last Friday. Miller is an old time railroad man in Utah. He was connected with the Denver and Rio Grande ten years ago, since when he has held various positions in the East with several railroads. He is receiving the congratulations of old time friends on his return to Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. MacLean delightfully entertained about sixty friends last Tuesday evening to meet their guest, Mrs. Ferg Ferguson of Salt Lake City, a sister of William G. and Joseph R. Sharp. Five hundred was played until a seasonable hour, when all partook of dainty refreshments. The score cards were in yellow and green and hand painted, the house decorations being in like color scheme. Handsome prizes were given the winners at the games.

About two hundred and eighty thousand acres of land in the northern part of the former Utah reservation will be sold for not less than fifty cents an acre at Provo on the 8th of October, one-fifth cash and the balance in four equal installments annually. Those interested may obtain further information by addressing James W. Witten, the superintendent of sales, Washington, D. C. Any purchaser may buy not more than six hundred and forty acres.

The Carbon county teachers' institute will be held at Price, beginning next Wednesday, September 4th, and continuing through Thursday and Friday. The instructors engaged by County Superintendent of Schools Marcusen are Prof. J. L. Brown of the Brigham Young University at Provo, Prof. Howard Briggs of the University of Utah at Salt Lake City and Miss McChesney of the Agricultural College of Utah at Logan. A splendid program has been arranged.

Rev. R. T. Plisk, the new Methodist pastor, announces preaching services at Price every Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock; Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Beginning next Sunday, Keweenaw League, 8 o'clock in the evening; Wednesday prayer meeting at the same hour. Preaching in the auditorium at Kenilworth, second and fourth Sundays, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Helper, preaching in the railroad chapel first and third Sundays, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

F. C. Johnson, a negro transient charged with the robbery of James Martello's cash drawer at Helper of sixty-five dollars, was discharged before Justice Ballinger at Price yesterday. Martello got his money back and refused to prosecute. Wallace Ellis and Helen Redding and Anna Wells, the latter two negroes, were given twenty days in jail for the theft of a watch, a razor and a ring at Kenilworth last week. All were apprehended at Price by Sheriff Ketter.

Friday of next week the ladies of Price ward are to serve a big chicken dinner at noon, the proceeds to go to the new tabernacle fund. The menu will consist of mashed potatoes, chicken gravy, baked beans, new corn, beet and cucumber pickle, bread, butter and coffee. The primary bazaar will be held in the afternoon, closing with a big dance in the evening. The price of the dinner will be thirty-five cents. It is to be "a square meal." All anyone wants to satisfy the inner man, City Hall.

How's This?
We offer one hundred dollar reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. Cheney & Co. Props., Toledo, O. We've understood, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.
